

"Come Back Sweet Papa"
"Baby Won't You Please Come Home"
"Mamma's Gone, Goodbye"
I think this guy must come from a broken home.

SOUTHERN COMFORT NEWSLETTER

February 2008.

Hi,

It seems we're in the season of colds, etc., or maybe it's just that sometimes musicians have prior engagements. Whatever the cause, our friends Brian Graville and Peter Sagermann won't be playing on the next gig. However, we will be entertained by John Anderson from London, performing on trombone, and Al Colter on trumpet. John was the original trombone player with Southern Comfort and is well known with bands on both sides of the Canada/US border. Al is a fine trumpet player with an enormous repertoire of early New Orleans Jazz. Bring along your requests.

In March Brian & Peter will be back and you will see the regular Southern Comfort band at Cafe 13. In April we will also be doing a show at C'est What in Toronto.... but more of that later.

It has been suggested that I might include photos from our sessions in this newsletter. If any of you have something you think would be suitable I would be pleased to entertain any suggestions at all that might add interest to these short notices.

Don't forget.... the next Gig at Café 13 will be Sunday, February 17, 4p.m. to 7 p.m.

See you there,

.....Trevor