SOUTHERN COMFORT NEWSLETTER

Hi Folks,

Here we are again to remind you that our next gig at Café 13 is Sunday, June 15, 4 to 7 p.m.

We had a really good audience at our May session, but I did spot a couple of vacant chairs, so do tell your friends to come and join us in June.

At the next session our resident bass player and favourite vocalist, Bryan Day, is unable to join us, but we are very fortunate to have Colin Bray taking his place. However, for those who will miss his dulcet tones, Bryan Day will be back in July. Colin is a fine bassist who supports the band with a strong beat. He started playing with the "Happy Pals" and later joined the "Toronto Hot 5". Until recently he was the resident bass player with the Jeff Healey band.

We will continue to offer you our music on the third Sunday of the month throughout the summer.

Just a reminder.... the next gig at Café 13 is Sunday, June 15, 4 to 7 p.m. If you ask nicely I may even play "Stranger on the Shore".

See you on June 15..... Trevor
